Created in collaboration with award-winning interior designer and “Queer Eye” star, Bobby Berk, the new Bobby Berk for A.R.T. Furniture collection features a stylish selection of bedroom, dining, living room and outdoor furnishings. It is A.R.T.’s first collection with an outside designer. Signature pieces include walnut dressers and sideboards with geometric patterns and sleek, comfortable sofas. A.R.T. describes the style as “minimalist urban luxury.” Three additional collections are new for A.R.T. El Rey is inspired by a trip to a high-end flea market in Paris. Relaxed yet sophisticated pieces feature weathered wood with natural markings, including knots, nail holes and saw chatter. Parquetry veneer inlays mimic the look of reclaimed flooring, while distressed fabrics, hand-hammered metal accents and antique mirror details contribute to the “new vintage” look. La Scala is another full collection, this one characterized by bold shapes and soft, sensual curves embellished with jewelry-like hardware and details in metal, stone, marble and faux alabaster. Finally, Landmark is rooted in tradition with signature Louis Philippe forms executed in updated design techniques and a fresh, russet-tone finish that accentuates the rich hickory and oak burl veneers. Mottle silver metal overlays, custom hardware, black marble tops and faux crocodile leather bring a fresh approach to classic styling.

CR Laine

310 North Hamilton, S-204

Media contact: Holly Blalock

hblalock@crlaine.com

The styling of CR Laine's silhouettes this season remains minimal, incorporating classic/traditional designs with popular style. This "new traditional" consists of what the company calls "soft modern" pieces – no rolled arms, no matching chairs or loveseats. Detailing is precise and intricate. The channels in the new Malcom and Digby chairs, for example, are carefully sewn one row at a time to align perfectly. Detailed stitching like a French seam rope stitch highlight the refined lines in the silhouette. The new Whitaker sofa, a slightly more exaggerated version of the Chesterfield, boasts tall, sheltering arms and a weighty base with low legs – evocative of the Chester, but interpreted in a new way. In textiles, CR Laine is layering multiple textures and patterns in high contrasts rather than a coordinated mix. New fabrics in striking color palettes like delft blue, ochre mustard and charcoal gray require a skillful eye to curate exciting combinations that can be considered new classics. www.crlaine.com

Hickory Chair

Media contact: Laura Holland

Laura.holland@hickorychair.com

The new Ray Booth for Hickory Chair Collection includes bedroom, dining room and living room furniture that reflects the designer's love of craftsmanship, fine hardwoods, decorative veneers and hand-forged metal. Booth is an Alabama native and alumnus of Auburn University's School of Architecture. He began his career as an intern at McAlpine, the distinguished architectural firm of Bobby McAlpine, and later had successful tenures in the offices of John Saladino and Clodagh. Highlights of his Hickory Chair collection include the generously-scaled Cradle Sofa in 104 or 118 inches on a steel frame with bronzed feet. The Tête-à-tête Chaise has a cantilevered base atop two “L”-shaped steel legs creating an exciting visual tension. The unusual Carriage Table has an antiqued nickel metal tray top making it the perfect drink table companion to a chair or sofa. The steel carriage allows the table to be toted to various locations, while the stacked drawers provide storage for small items (like cocktail napkins). The unique Rick Box Table is playful in its simplicity. Its three, alternating, stacked drawers provide storage while the top provides a chairside rest for a drink. The Shelter Platform Bed envelopes its occupant between two walnut wings flanking an upholstered headboard, and the elegant Scalloped Santos Rosewood Chest takes its cues from a classic Biedermeier chest. Hooker Furniture

IHFC C-1058

Media contact: Kristin Hawkins
khawkins@scompr.com

Channeling jet-setting socialites from the golden age of Hollywood, Hooker introduces a major, 100-piece expansion of its popular Sanctuary collection. New bedroom, dining room, occasional and home office pieces are grouped into three distinct personas, each with its own design characteristics. Colette is bold and dramatic with a black-painted finish and accents in champagne, silver and gold, along with eglomise mirror details and dramatic floral carvings. Anastasia offers a softer, romantic look with a creamy white finish accented with champagne and silver tipping. Several historical reproduction pieces, intricate quatrefoil veneer patterns and acanthus leaf and scrollwork detailing give the group a traditional European cottage feel. Offering a more metropolitan style, Diamant has a silver finish with undertones of gold and champagne. The group is complemented by a black accent finish, mirrored details and a fresh, white eglomise process accented with silver tipping. Hooker completes the look with upholstery styles that coordinate with these three distinct personas. The company is also enhancing its Hill Country Collection with LaGrange, a 65-piece, whole home collection inspired by the Hill Country region of Texas, including the town of LaGrange. A 50-piece addition to Melange also is on tap. These occasional pieces are inspired by four “micro trends,” including Mixology, Graphic Glamour, New Retro and Collected Eclectic. www.hookerfurniture.com

Kincaid Furniture Company

IHFC C-926

Media contact: Terri James

Terri.james@la-z-boy.com

“As the world around us becomes more synthetic, consumers have a desire to connect with something real,” says Tim Annas, vice president of merchandising for Kincaid. The company’s answer this market is Antiquity, a collection inspired by the antiques of the early 1600s. Details such as simple chamfers, rustic pegs at the joints and linen fold drawers in the dining room, bedroom and occasional furniture give this collection a distinct connection to the past. Antiquity is crafted in solid knotty alder wood in two finishes: “Chalky White” and “Saddle.” A second new collection, Symmetry, blends clean lines, angles and shapes with a wire-brushed, textured finish on solid white and French oak. The drawer pulls are crafted in solid walnut that contrasts with the sand-color finish on the cases. www.kincaidfurniture.com

Legacy Classic Furniture

2622 Uwharrie Road

Media contact: Christopher Phillips

cphillips@legacyclassic.com

Refined Rustic and Chelsea are the latest additions to the Rachel Ray Home collections by Legacy Classic. Refined Rustic is inspired by her first home, a small two-bedroom cabin in upstate New York, where her love of design emerged as she searched estate sales and auctions for items to dress up her rustic surroundings. She found beautiful tapestries, English Hunt pieces, and beautiful combinations of designs with Old World themes. Refined Rustic by Rachael Ray Home captures the elegance of these timeworn antiquities. The collection uses flat-cut white oak veneers on solid hardwoods in a medium brown “Hunt Country” finish with light distressing. Design details on the bedroom, dining and occasional pieces include planked tops, sculpted pilasters, scroll motifs and carved moldings, all adding to the authentic feel. Old world brass hardware and accents complete the look. Rachael Ray’s Chelsea collection is a glamorous, sophisticated group that brings her fashion-forward taste to the dining and bedroom. The clean, transitional lines of the “Bright White” finish are offset by a “Soft Gold” finish on the knob hardware and accents. In addition to these new groups from Rachael Ray, Legacy has four additional “whole home” collections and two bedroom-only collections. Styles range from rustic casual to casual contemporary – with “casual” being the driving force. www.legacyclassic.com

Gigi is the undeniable scene-stealer at Taylor King this spring. The dramatic and chic settee is designed to bring luxe appeal to a formal entry or sitting room. Upholstered in a metallic fabric with velvet accent pillows, it sits on tall, slender, carved legs in a dark finish. The new Dean wing chair features an eye-catching cutout detail along the arms, underscored by a black pearl nail head trim. In “Davis Mango,” the Clark swivel chair offers a pop of happy color. The classic wicker frame in an “Acorn” finish is transitional with a fully upholstered back and solid seat. The Gemma chair offers clean lines, plush cushions and a soft, silver-tone fabric. The polished stainless, bracket-style legs lend a contemporary look. At the opposite end of the style spectrum, Donovan features a traditional silhouette with an exposed wood frame. It is shown in a neutral-tone, abstract floral printed on luxurious velvet. www.taylorking.com

Thayer Coggin230 South Road, High Point*Media contact: Phil Miller*phil@thayercoggin.com

An edgy new seating collection called Blade, designed by Ransom Culler, is characterized by thin “blades” of support that seem to suspend the seating in mid-air. Thayer Coggin Vice President Phil Miller describes the collection as “a real engineering magic act.” The supports are available in three finishes, including polished stainless steel, dark bronze and a walnut wood veneer. In addition to Blade, Thayer Coggin is re-introducing several of Milo Baughman’s influential mid-century modern textile designs. “Stupid Cupid,” “Charlies Angels” and “Yikes Stripes” are Baughman rug designs from the 1960s revived for this market in partnership with Creative Accents. Additional new pieces include Mercury, a swivel rocking lounge chair; Clarence, a swivel lounge chair with a high, architectural back; and Betty, a compact little rounded back chair on a solid walnut base that is available in three finishes. All three chairs are Baughman designs. www.thayercoggin.com
